

HOPE—ESPERANZA: Alexis Valdés

‘When the storm has passed
and the roads are tamed,
and we are the survivors
of a collective shipwreck.

With a weeping heart
and our destiny blessed
we will feel joy simply for being alive...

We will envy no one as all have suffered and we will not be idle
but more compassionate.

We’ll value more what belongs to all than what was earned.

We will be more generous and much more committed

We will understand how fragile
it means to be alive.

We will sweat empathy
for those still with us and those who are gone..

And all will become a miracle
And all will become a legacy.
And we will respect the life,
the life we have gained.

When the storm passes
I ask you, God, in shame
that you return us better
as you once dreamed us.’

World Mission Institute 2021

Focus on migration, mission, spirituality and the strong connection among all three. The great tragedy of today must be at the centre of the church’s mission and engaging in such a mission requires a deep spirituality of mercy, tenderness, compassion, hospitality and prophetic courage.
